

THE GAZETTE.

SATURDAY, JUNE 5.

The jury impaneled to try the question of James Dacey's insanity, has reported that he is sane, and therefore will have to hang on the 16th of July, at Woodstock. The murder he committed was a cold-blooded one, and his plea of insanity is a dodge.

A financial reporter on the staff of a New York daily got into the good graces of a ring of speculators, and they kindly allowed him to clear $120,000 in a single transaction. A few days later the ring took him in again, but not into their good graces. They took every cent he had.

A republican candidate for the presidency in 1888 that can command a large part of the Irish vote, will carry the election. Mr. Blaine is exceptionally strong with that class.—New York Tribune.

It would be a good idea for the republicans to nominate a candidate who can carry the republican vote, and then he will have no trouble in carrying the election.

A valuable suggestion from the West Bend Times, Democratic: "If the majority of Dodge county democrats are willing to admit that they are owed by Delaney and the majority of Fond du Lac county democrats admit that they are owed by Bragg, and there two gentlemen can agree to pool their interests, that settles it; but it is a queer state of things to exist among intelligent people."

In the newspaper account of the total destruction of DeForest, Clarke & Co.'s Chicago building and contents by fire on the 26th day of May, it was generally stated that the plates of the Frequent Memos were destroyed. This is not the case. All the original plates were in results in Philadelphia and New York, and only the original copper plate map was destroyed; of this General Frequent had a proof, and a new one will be at once reproduced. The fire will only delay publication a few weeks.

Secretary Manning has tendered his resignation to the president. Mr. Cleveland requested the secretary of the treasury to remain as the nominal head of the treasury department until the first of October when Mr. Manning has consented to do, and in the mean time he will take a vacation. The secretary of the treasury is considered the ablest man in the cabinet. He has large business experience and has managed the affairs of the treasury with considerable skill. His administration has not materially differed from his republican predecessors.

The Washington correspondent of the Pittsburgh Press thinks the Jacksonian apologetic principle is daily becoming more unpopular with democratic members of congress, some of the best of whom are to be defeated because they have not been able to make the offices go round among the boys. But it seems to be popular enough to make the democratic members acquiesce because they do not receive their supposed share of public patronage. It is hard work to educate the average democratic congressman, or in fact any other congressman, to that point of excellence which will enable him to make him think more of his public duties than he does of the patronage that belongs to his office.

The Mount Vernon association, from whom Washington's estate was purchased by popular subscription for $200,000, is getting itself into trouble. A fee of thirty-five cents per head is charged visitors to the tomb of the father of his country, and the association is reputed to clear not less than $30 per day, besides a percentage on steamboat fares, it having assumed the monopoly of transporting passengers to Mount Vernon to see the tomb. The place is said to be kept in poor repair, and the directors—all of whom are accused of pocketing the great bulk of the proceeds. For six years past, they are said to have persistently declined to render an account of their stewardship to the public. A movement is on foot to have congress take proper charge of the grounds and throw them open to the public. If there were no other reason for change in management, the fact that a fee is charged visitors to the great American's tomb is alone sufficient.

The true policy to be adopted in regard to buttering, and to all other imitation or adulterated articles of food, is to require that they shall be sold only for what they are, instead of what they are not. They cannot be taxed out of existence. To place upon them a burdensome tax is merely to increase the price of the genuine articles of which they are imitations. Pure dairy products do not need this tax for their protection.—Chicago Journal.

That is the true position. The congressional tax of five cents a pound will not drive oleomargarine out of the market, neither will it give the protection the dairymen want. It will have the tendency to increase the price, and those who have been sold heretofore will be hereafter sold at a higher price than before. That is about the only difference the tax will make, and butter consumers will soon begin to think that is about enough. Such a fraud as the manufacture of butter for pure butter, ought to have been stopped by a penalty. Make the manufacturers and the retail dealers of all such stuff as oleomargarine, put the mark of Cain on it, and its sale will soon play out.

Says Mr. E. C. Carriagan, of the Massachusetts state board of education: "There are many subjects taught in high schools and colleges that might well be dropped for such a practical subject as shorthand, a working knowledge of which is of advantage in every calling. The great and growing demand for the business shorthand amanuensis has created a market for talented youth, and the results of the work in our own school are ample proof of the wisdom of the committee in adding this subject to the curriculum. The ability to write well has put many a bright young man from the common-room into the corporation, as is the case with one of the vice presidents of the Pennsylvania road. The confidential relations which the amanuensis has to his employer gives him every advantage, and there is no doubt that if less time was devoted to the acquiring of a smattering of the sciences and the ever unsatisfactory knowledge of Greek and Latin, especially by those who pursue them but for a year or two, and these hours were devoted to something for every day use, the world would be just as well off, while the individual would be much better."

When Grover Cleveland was elected president, the democrats of Wisconsin promised that there should be a genuine reform in the politics of the state, that the democrats would stand on a high moral plane, and that the civil service reform presented by the democratic president would be reflected in the political action of the democratic leaders.

Now comes a piece of history which shows how near the "boss" democrats of Wisconsin have come to inaugurating a political reform in this state: A written contract was drawn up and signed by seven of the nine delegates from Fond du Lac county, one of whom was the present postmaster of Fond du Lac, in which they promised that Fond du Lac should support Delaney, or any other candidate presented by Dodge county, to fill the vacancy in congress in case Bragg was elected United States senator in 1887; that in 1888 the Fond du Lac delegation should support Delaney or any other candidate for congress presented by Dodge; and that the influence of Bragg should be given to secure the federal offices in Dodge county for Delaney's friends. On the back of this document is an endorsement signed by General Bragg, substantially as follows: "I endorse and ratify the within agreement, and in case of the election of Grover Cleveland to the presidency, the patronage of Dodge county shall be controlled by the Dodge county delegation." A further endorsement, signed by four members of the Dodge county delegation states that Bragg signed his name to the ratification before the signatures of the Fond du Lac members of the convention were affixed to the agreement, and that the two members of the Fond du Lac delegation who did not sign were absent, thus explaining why their names did not appear.

The foregoing statement is taken from the Milwaukee Sentinel, which advises the democrats of the Second district to repudiate the disgraceful political bargain, and send all the persons interested in it to the rear. This ought to be done, but there is no likelihood that it will be done. General Bragg is a political trader and will barter anything for office. Delaney is ambitious and probably does not care about him any more political morality than his rival Bragg. This is the way the democrats of Wisconsin are exemplifying genuine civil service reform.

The Harper's Weekly, in discussing the question of the republican party and the temperance question, reprints the following telegram, which was sent to the New York Tribune during the discussion of the excise bill at Albany:

"ALBANY, May 12.
To the Tribune, New York City.
The excise bill will probably pass the assembly to-morrow morning. Three commissioners will be appointed under it, one a republican, and not a Grace republican. The bill will materially help the republicans party, giving republicans sole license in the city of New York, which they are entitled, and will prevent the use of the department against us politically."
SHERIDAN SPOOK."

The Weekly then goes on to criticize the republican managers at Albany for throwing their influence in favor of the excise bill and in favor of the saloons, which is all right, but it leaves the impression that the Tribune published the disgraceful dispatch, whereas it did not, having refused to debase its columns with it. The Weekly also reprehends the republican legislature of New York for refusing to allow a prohibitory amendment to be submitted to the people, a position in which the Harper's Weekly correctly stands.

The republicans of the New York legislature made a serious blunder in voting down the prohibitory proposition. It could have been sustained without endorsing the principles of prohibition or in anywise encouraging the third party. What the republicans ought to have done was to vote for the submission of the proposed amendment, and leave the responsibility of its adoption with the people. The republican party cannot afford to become the guardian of the liquor interest, neither can it increase its strength and gain the confidence of the country through the saloon. No reasonable person could rightly object to the submission of a prohibition amendment. It is not only a legitimate thing to do but it is a proper thing to do, and if the people do not want it, then the question is settled so far as the state in which it is tried is concerned.

There is nothing that will help a political party more than commendable courage and unshaken honesty. The people have unlimited confidence in a body of men who dare to do right, but the fear to do the right thing least the liquor men might be offended, beggars contempt. There were times when both the republican managers and the party itself, dared to fight slavery and all sorts of wrong, and face the very vassalage of hell and all the assaults of the arrogant sinner. When the republican managers and the party get squarely into its old track, the party will become as strong as it was in its strongest days.

TALKED TO THE IRON MEN

A SHORT ADDRESS BY POWDERLY TO THE PITTSBURG CONVENTION.

What He Has to Say of the Result of the Cleveland Meeting—Got All He Wanted—Railway Strike Expected at Chicago—A Herd of Horses in Front of a Freight Train.

Pittsburgh, June 4.—Terrence V. Powderly delivered a speech to the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel workers, in which he addressed the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel workers to join the Knights of Labor. His address was very brief. He said:

"The day is coming when all branches of labor will come into closer relations with one another. I am here for the purpose of conveying to this convention the friendly greetings and the warmest wishes of our body, whatever the Amalgamated Association can do into our order or not, the hand of sympathy and encouragement will be freely tendered them whenever needed. There has been no war made, and no war made, to force the association to join the Knights of Labor. The matter of joining will be made optional with yourselves. If however, your organization should decide to form an alliance with the order, I promise you that your order will not only retain the right to govern your own business and retain your identity, but you will have the sympathy and support of every branch of labor that goes to make up the great order of the Knights of Labor."

Mr. Powderly's address was received with enthusiasm by the delegates, and at its close, the speaker enjoyed an ovation of his handshaking for several minutes.

Mr. Powderly was asked by a representative of the United Press about the alleged agreement on the order to oust him and his supporters from office. "So far as I can discover anything in the Home club," he said, "it is simply a little circle of men in the order, who are more intimate with one another than with other members. They do not claim that their object is to build a home for each of the members and they have between $1000 and $4000 in their treasury."

"You notice your order's advocacy of arbitration, to which the Amalgamated Association is opposed, form a barrier in the way of that association joining you?" "I don't think all the simply recommend arbitration, but we do not believe in compulsory arbitration. I don't think federal interference in arbitration is a good thing. Congress might just as well make a law regulating the manner of conducting strikes."

It would be quite enough for congress to pass a resolution in favor of arbitration. When we have thorough organization we can do without legislation. The only enemies of the iron manufacturers and workers are a form of arbitration we advocate."

"Are you satisfied with the work of the Cleveland convention?" "I am," he answered, "and I am glad to see the iron manufacturers and workers are a form of arbitration we advocate."

A LIVING BARACADE

Prevents a Freight Train from Moving at Cummings, Ill.

Chicago, June 4.—At 10 o'clock Friday morning an engine of the Rock Island road was sent to Cummings to attempt to move the four cars loaded with nails made by the men at the works there. The road was blocked by a peculiar way. Women and children to the number of 200, the wives and families of former employees, assembled around the terminals of the railroad tracks. When the engine approached there was a rush to where the women were standing. The mothers grouped their little ones along the track some distance ahead of the first freight car, and packed them against the rails. The children, the mothers and grown-up daughters taking position in the rear. The engine steamed so slowly a short distance, but seeing the living baracade on the track, reversed and returned to South Chicago. When the women dispersed, and on their return were met by the police, who refused to allow them to return to the tracks without resorting to harsh measures, but the attempt to move the cars was abandoned. More of the same kind of trouble is expected.

The Rock Island switching crew refused to handle the cars and on their return to South Chicago were promptly discharged. This is expected to lead to a general strike of the switchmen of the Rock Island road.

Twenty-five Thousand Tailors Strike.
New York, June 4.—The journeyman tailors on strike have been assured of the support of all the tailors' unions of New York, Brooklyn, Newark, and other cities in this vicinity, and unless the lawyers concede the demands of the strikers, all the strikers, it is said, go out. This will place 25,000 men on strike, and make it impossible for wholesale houses to fulfill their contracts with retailers throughout the country.

HONEYMOONING IN DEER PARK.

How Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Spent Their Time.

DEER PARK, Md., June 4.—Friday afternoon the president and wife took luncheon with ex-senator Davis of West Virginia. Nothing elaborate was attempted in the way of menu, but a good sensible mountain meal was partaken of and apparently largely enjoyed by the distinguished guests. While the party were at the table an amateur photographer took several views of the Davis cottage, and endeavored, but without success, to obtain a sitting of the guests. After luncheon the president and Mrs. Cleveland were driven back to their cottage where they read the different newspaper accounts of their wedding and journey at Deer Park. The president is said to have received Friday afternoon a letter from Washington, which he gave considerable consideration and time.

In the afternoon, about 4 o'clock, the president and wife were taken out to the State of Virginia, the objective point being Mountain Lake and Logan Mountain. The party returned from their drive between 5 and 6 o'clock. After dinner the president devoted some more time to his mail, which consisted of letters from Buffalo, Indianapolis, New York, Chicago, Washington and other points. About 8:30 ex-senator Davis called, and spent an hour or so with the newly married couple.

No definite arrangements have yet been made by the president for the future, but he is said to have under consideration a project to visit the canal at the Great West river, where the scenery is most beautiful. Should he decide upon this, it is probably he will leave Deer Park on Monday and return from the Great West river direct to Washington, although the project is to extend his trip further west before returning to work. If the weather continues bright and dry, however, the probabilities are that his honeymoon will be spent in the quietude of Deer Park.

The church people are counting on the attendance of the bride and groom in the Presbyterian chapel, adjoining the hotel, on Sunday next, provided a clergyman can be obtained.

Blindfold Gun Men Meet.
SHREVEPORT, La., June 4.—A largely attended mass-meeting of the miners of the Springfield district was held Friday at the base ball park to discuss the present mining troubles. The operators wanted the men to work for 50 cents per ton, while the scale is 67½ cents. Resolutions were adopted rejecting the operators' proposal, denouncing the scheme of the operators to have miners work for 50 cents per ton, and to have the miners to be the scale is 67½ cents.

Don Dickinson for Cleveland.
New York, June 4.—The Hon. Don M. Dickinson, of Michigan, was asked: "Do you think Cleveland will be re-nominated for a second term?" "I am not," he answered.

"Undoubtedly. I know that he is on record as opposed to a second term, but that makes no difference. We will force him to be our candidate. He is very popular, and will make the strongest candidate the Democrats can put in the field."

Salisbury Answers Blaine.
LOANESBORO, N. Y., June 4.—Lord Salisbury, referring to the home laws, which he has just returned from, said he had never said what was attributed to him; that he had no objection to Mr. Blaine using anything he did say to suit his own purpose, but would request that quotations should be accurate. Lord Salisbury said that Salisbury's words admitted of no construction put upon them by Mr. Blaine.

Costly Fire at Oshkosh.
OSHKOSH, Wis., June 4.—A fire here Friday night burned lumber, hats, shoes and silk worth valued at from $2,000 to $3,000. A brick wind from the northwest prevailed, and for a time it was thought the fire was doomed. People in many parts prepared their household goods for removal, and some had their furniture carted to the city limits.

Frank Gable and Suicide.
READING, Pa., June 4.—Frank Gable, aged 23, shot and killed his brother Charles, aged 21, three times Friday night, inflicting mortal wounds. He then shot himself, and died. The cause of the quarrel was a statement by Frank that Charles had interfered in his affairs.

How Long Will This Last?
TONTONVILLE, A. T., June 4.—Carr's ranch, in the Huachuca mountains, was raided by Apaches Friday. One ranchman was killed and a number of cattle driven off.

A Generous Rain at Galveston.
GALVESTON, Tex., June 4.—A generous rain fell here Friday evening broke the prevailing drought, averting the impending water famine.

Life seems hardly worth the living to-day to many a tired, unhappy discouraged woman who is suffering from chronic female weakness for which she has been able to find no relief. But there is a certain cure for all the painful complaints to which the weaker sex is liable. We refer to Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" to the virtues of which thousands of women can testify. As a tonic and nerve it is unsurpassed. All druggists.

A POSY SONG.

Conio, let us a posy make,

Sweet with lasting flowers to-day!
Gather roses, dear, and brood,
Pinks in buds and sprigs of bay,
Myrtle, violets, woodruff, rue,
Lavender, and featherfew.

Trim it round with southern wood,
Gray and sweet as honest age;
Ladies' bodice fresh and good,
Lilies, thyme, and silver sage,
Kiss it fast and let it lie,
With my love—Willie die.

PAINTING A WAR PICTURE.

Collecting the Material for a "Panorama"—Col. Fred Grant's Photograph.

"In painting a war picture the artist must first select a battle of national interest and with a certain dramatic value of its own. Now comes the almost endless task of collecting the material. The soldiers who take part in a great engagement often represent almost every locality in the country. All the sources must be consulted. One can't afford to be mistaken in a single instance. It would be disastrous the very first time an old soldier who was in the fight visited the picture."

"But to make you understand I will tell you how I collected the material for the Siege of Vicksburg. It is the only one we have in the department at Washington, D. C., and collected every photograph and sketch pertaining to the fight. I also obtained copies of the roll call of all the Federal troops engaged in the battle. To 38,000 of these men I sent circular letters requesting them to send me their full name, age, weight, height, and a photograph. Thousands of these letters have been answered. If they were all collected and printed in book form I honestly believe it would be the most interesting and most unique contribution to the history of the rebellion."

"A few days ago I wrote to Col. Fred Grant asking him to send me a photograph of himself at the age when he was at the battle of Vicksburg with his father. Yesterday he answered the letter, and sent me a photograph of a lad of 13. He writes: 'Dear General: Inclosed find a photograph of Col. Fred Grant at the age when he was at the battle of Vicksburg with his father. He is the only one we have of him while at that age, and, as his mother prizes it very much, will you kindly return it when your great picture is finished?'"

"This is the photograph of four men all standing in a row on a crucifix. You will notice that each man has lost his left leg. They wrote me a letter stating that they were all engaged in the battle of Vicksburg, all were from the same neighborhood, and all knew each other, and all lost their left leg. Now isn't that a bit of remarkable war history?"—Cincinnati Enquirer.
